

PLEASE READ BEFORE SENDING ANY COMMUNICATION

Please note that any communication with Lynn A. Buskey or Buskey Law Offices (collectively the "firm") via email or through this website does not constitute or create an attorney-client relationship with the firm. Please do not send any confidential information.

The firm accepts clients only in accordance with certain formal procedures, and renders legal advice only after completion of those procedures. To obtain legal representation from the firm, you must first undergo a personal interview with a firm attorney and establish an attorney-client relationship with the firm by signing a written engagement letter. Whether you are a new or existing client of the firm, the firm cannot represent you on a new matter until it determines that there is no conflict of interest and it is willing and able to accept such new engagement in writing.

By clicking "Submit," or otherwise emailing the firm prior to a mutually agreed-upon representation, you agree that we may review any information you transmit to us, and you recognize that our review of your information, even if it is highly confidential and even if it is transmitted in a good faith effort to retain us, does not preclude us from representing another client directly adverse to you, even in a matter where that information could and will be used against you.